Happy Mothers' Day Mom, Mama, Mother

Can a woman forget her nursing child and have no compassion on the son of her womb? Even these may forget, but I will not forget you. Isaiah 49:15

I remember my mother's prayers and they have always followed me. They have clung to me all my life.
~ Abraham Lincoln

The sweetest sounds to mortals given
Are heard in Mother, Home, and Heaven.
~ William Goldsmith Brown

A mother's happiness is like a beacon, lighting up the future but reflected also on the past in the guise of fond memories. ~ Honoré de Balzac

The formative period for building character for eternity is in the nursery. The mother is queen of that realm and sways a scepter more potent than that of kings or priests. ~ Author Unknown

That best academy, a mother's knee. ~ Author Unknown

A mother is not a person to lean on, but a person to make leaning unnecessary. ~ Dorothy Canfield Fisher

A suburban mother's role is to deliver children obstetrically once, and by car forever after. ~ Peter De Vries

The most important thing a father can do for his children is to love their mother. ~ Author Unknown

Mothers hold their children's hands for a short while, but their hearts forever. ~ Author Unknown

The love of a mother for her children is the strongest attachment seen in nature. This relationship is recognized in the passage of scripture seen above where God teaches Israel that His love for them is even stronger than the tender ties of a mother to her child. Words cannot adequately express a mother's love for her child. So I will not try today. Just a simple "Thank you" for your love, sacrifice and hard work you have dedicated to your children is offered to all of the mothers present today. We love you. We need you.
